

Musically I feel like things are going well. As we are practicing and Members are realizing that they have more memorized and they previously thought, things continue to get better. I believe that this week we will be able to polish the last few pieces. At this point the only piece that I have concern about is we three Kings especially with Philip and Stephen dropping out at this point. I plan to spend some time tomorrow evening on this song and if it doesn't continue to make progress and I will decide to cut it. I believe that by cutting it we'll be able to focus the last two rehearsals more on pieces that are known and polishing them.

The readings before each song should be done tomorrow and I will be able to solicit people tomorrow evening in rehearsal to read those I plan on putting those on a music stand where they can read them or if they would like to memorize them they are more than welcome to. It will not be incredibly difficult to memorize and if they want to they will have that option.

The only other concern that I have are the logistics for the concerts. I am worried because I have been asked what we need to do but I have never been in any of the venues minus where we were rehearse and at the Enola venue. so I am I'm sure of that so if people can help walk me through exactly what needs to happen for those that would be wonderful. We need the vests and Pom poms and I don't know where they are
